

Energy expertise is not acquired by reading books, but rather, through hands-on work experience. Our partners have worked as part of management in energy companies ranging from oil field services to exploration and production activities. It is good to know that your CPA understands the difference between “spudding” a well and a “frack job.”

We understand the unique demands of the industry. We serve companies across the entire supply chain from manufacturing equipment to product distribution. Our energy clients are involved in exploration and production, oilfield services, transportation and distribution. Additionally, we provide consulting services to private equity and venture capital providers who invest in the energy industry.

Our mission is to be the best accounting firm for energy, real estate & construction, healthcare and multinational companies in the middle market.

CALVETTI FERGUSON HIGHLIGHTS

Whether it is complex tax issues or a new business venture, Calvetti Ferguson goes further than fundamental accounting services to eliminate hurdles, identify opportunities and ensure the best for your business. We bring deep industry experience to solve the most intricate challenges and add value by linking clients with business development connections through our network of resources.